

Apr 13

MEMORIAL SLOAN-KETTERING CANCER CENTER

1275 YORK AVENUE, NEW YORK, NEW YORK 10021

February 4, 1982

Dr. Joshua Lederberg
President
The Rockefeller University
1230 York Avenue
New York, N.Y. 10021

Dear Dr. Lederberg:

It was a great pleasure and privilege to meet with you to discuss Immunobiology Program Project at the Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center, in which 9 scientists of the Rockefeller University now participate. These collaborations offer each of us a growing opportunity to share our mutual research perspectives in the field of Immunodeficiency, using the unique resource of the Memorial Hospital Immunodeficiency Clinic. As you had requested, I am enclosing the relevant budget pages of this grant which indicate the monetary support projected for the Rockefeller University.

I very much hope that you will be able to speak for a few minutes at the opening of the Project Site visit on April 13. Once again, thank you for your time, attention and interest. ✓

Sincerely,,

L. Cunningham-Rundles
Charlotte Cunningham-Rundles, M.D., Ph.D.

CCR:ct
encl.
cc: Dr. Paul A. Marks

④ TS

accept: ☐ regret: ☐